HARDCORE=RELIGION - PROMOTER TERMS
HIR-PROMOTERS-2026-10-31.1

Operator and participation
The HIR promoter programme is operated by Phase Factory, KvK 64543625, Vlambloem 85 E, 3068 JG Rotterdam, Netherlands. Contact info@hardcoreisreligion.com. Joining is voluntary, requires no purchase or entry fee, and is subject to team approval. New promoter applicants must be at least 18. A shop account alone is not promoter approval.

Rules and existing rights
Your portal identifies which programme is open and the applicable award rules, limits and availability. Proposed rates, beta targets and draft rewards are not live offers. A percentage commission pilot requires its own explicit acceptance. Material changes must be explained before they apply to future activity; this acceptance does not retrospectively replace valid existing awards, completed reward claims or purchase contracts.

Affiliate sales
Only eligible, confirmed and attributed external purchases count under the applicable rules. A buyer must choose to credit a promoter. Clicks are aggregate visits, not unique people or sales. Self-purchases, test orders, duplicates, refunded payments and disputes do not qualify. Fractions can accumulate even when the wallet displays whole HardCoins. Existing order and rule snapshots remain relevant to each award.

HardCoins and XP
HardCoins record eligible referral rewards; XP records qualifying community progression. XP is not money and cannot be spent or converted into HardCoins. HardCoins have no cash-out or person-to-person transfer facility. Do not describe them as cash, tax-free income or a guaranteed investment. Earned HardCoins and any future purchased pass credits remain separate. Purchased pass credits are not for sale under these terms.

Social activity and advertising
Use only official tools and permitted methods. A connection or Share click does not prove a repost. Universal repost detection and social XP are not open. Do not buy likes, followers or shares, spam people, submit fake evidence or access another account. Disclose the commercial relationship clearly in each promotional post or Story, including when rewards are non-cash, and use required platform branded-content labels. A suitable starting caption is: Ad for Hardcore=Religion. I may earn HardCoins from eligible purchases through this link. Adapt it to the actual campaign and platform. A supplied caption does not itself prove compliant publication.

Rewards and rank benefits
An entitlement exists only under an actual published offer and its applicable conditions. Check stock, price in HardCoins, eligibility and delivery before confirming a claim. Preview badges and rank graphics do not promise tickets, drinks, discounts, merchandise or cash. Rank benefits, paid passes and random prize draws are not enabled by accepting these terms. No paid random rewards are offered.

Safety reviews and corrections

Unusual activity may temporarily pause reward redemption for human review. A hold is not a finding of fraud. Recorded evidence and reasoned corrections must be kept; contact the operator to question an award or hold and request human review. Corrections to invalid or reversed activity do not remove independent paid purchase rights. A rank is not a staff permission.

Your account and QR

Keep your sign-in private. A member QR requires a current signed-in account and owner confirmation; do not approve remote checks or share screenshots as proof of entitlement. A scan alone grants no entry, discount, payment or XP. Staff must use their own authorised access.

Privacy and content

Public profiles and leaderboards are optional and private by default. See /privacy for account, activity, referral and security information. Submitting content does not transfer your copyright. Only submit material you are entitled to supply; separately agreed campaign use and moderation apply. Do not include other people?s private information without a valid basis.

Leaving and complaints

You may stop promoting and request closure of promoter participation through info@hardcoreisreligion.com. Leaving does not cancel shop purchases or automatically erase valid existing rights. Any open claim, balance or dispute must be assessed under its applicable terms; these terms add no retroactive expiry or blanket forfeiture. Contact the operator with your account and the issue for human handling. Mandatory rights remain unaffected.

Tax and legal classification

Non-cash rewards can have tax consequences. These terms do not determine whether a specific working relationship is employment or otherwise, and cannot override mandatory law. The operator and participant must comply with applicable tax, advertising and platform obligations.
